as week, I woke up to the news that Afghanistan finally acquired their Independence.

I booked a flight
to go to Afghanistan
The flight is very long... very long
flight.

But, it was worth it. Because of the happiness and peace
I felt after meeting
my beautiful family...
my beautiful cousins... my aunts... my uncles... and my grandma...

Then, we went to a very nice and luxury restaurant
in Jadaa, Kabul.
Which is also known as the heart of Kabul.

Then we went to
our beautiful,
green Village in Patilka.

Where I saw
beautiful Mountains,
pond, trees and
glowers..

At night, I slept
on the roof with many of cousins. I was able to see the stars and moon.
In the morning
I opened my eyes, I was in my apartment in El Cajon, California

And this became my absolute
favorite dream . . .
